The Mayfield Spine Institute

CINCINNATI, Ohio -- The Mayfield Spine Institute, a subsidiary of the Mayfield Clinic introduced in 1996, features the largest and most experienced network of spine specialists in the Midwest. Mayfield's multidisciplinary team includes board-certified physicians in neurosurgery and physical medicine and rehabilitation, as well as licensed professionals in physical therapy, occupational therapy and chiropractic care.

The Mayfield Spine Institute seeks to treat patients conservatively and to avoid surgery whenever possible. Typical treatment protocols involve physical therapy, home exercises, hydrotherapy, chiropractic manipulation and pain management. Mayfield's neurosurgeons also are renowned for providing state-of-the-art care in complex cases involving trauma, fractures, tumors, infection and degeneration of the spine.

Mayfield is affiliated with the University of Cincinnati Department of Neurosurgery and The Neuroscience Institute, a neuroscience center of excellence located at The University Hospital in Cincinnati. Mayfield's spine specialists are active participants in clinical research trials, are widely published in prestigious medical journals, and are frequent lecturers at international symposia.

Mayfield has nine office locations throughout the Greater Cincinnati-Northern Kentucky area.
